If you are an individual with a disability for whom this web registration system will create a barrier, the staff in the registrar’s office, in the Arnold Bernhard Library building, will assist you. Refer to your online catalog and your Student Handbook for statements and policies on nondiscrimination, compliance and disabilities.

Access
You are now able to access your registration dates and times through Student Planning. Please note that if you have a restriction on your account (e.g., bursar’s hold, student health form hold), you must clear your restriction before you can register. For questions regarding your financial account, please contact the bursar’s office—(203-582-8650 or 203-582-5239).

My Progress Report
“My Progress” is located in Student Planning within Self-Service, found on MyQ links. This report will assist you in planning course selections, registering for course sections and meeting your degree requirements.

Advising

MATRICULATED UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS
You must make an appointment to meet with your academic advisor. Your advisor’s name is listed in Student Planning. Together, you will review your progress and discuss course options for the Summer and Fall 2020 schedule of classes. All matriculated undergraduate students must meet with their advisors or a restriction will be placed on their account, which will prevent them from registering.

NON-MATRICULATED PART-TIME STUDENTS
Non-matriculated students should contact the Office of Part-time Admissions for further information on advisement by calling 203-582-8612.

GRADUATE STUDENTS
Matriculated students who are eligible to preregister and need advisement on course selection should contact their program director.

Fall and Spring Course Load for Undergraduate Students
The usual full-time course load for undergraduate students is 12-16 credits per semester (fall and spring). Students in accelerated dual-degree programs and in some majors may be required to take more than 16 credits per fall or spring semester. See the program’s curriculum for more information. Conversely, a student who enters with deficiencies may be allowed to take only three or four courses (12 credits or less). Some academic programs may limit the number of credits that may be taken in the fall and/or spring semesters.

Fall and Spring Course Load for Graduate Students
The usual load for graduate students is program-specific. See the program’s curriculum for more information.

J-Term and Summer Course Load for Undergraduate Students
The usual load for undergraduate students in the condensed January term (J-term) is 3 or 4 credits. In the summer I and/or Summer II sessions, the usual load for undergraduate students is one to three courses (3-10 credits total) per session. Some academic programs may limit the number of credits that may be taken in J-Term and/or the summer sessions. When determining the number of credits for which they plan to register, students should consider the rigor of their selected coursework, their history of academic success, work and other personal obligations, and other factors that may impact a student’s academic life.

J-Term and Summer Course Load for Graduate Students
J-term and/or summer course loads for graduate students are program-specific (if applicable). See the program's curriculum for more information.

Don’t miss out on a Global Education experience: Study Abroad!
At Quinnipiac University, we feel a sense of obligation to work toward a more diverse environment. We do this by increasing intentional global engagement opportunities for students, faculty and staff to learn both in and outside the classroom. Quinnipiac students participate in semester, short-term, internships, community engagement, clinical, research, exchange and faculty-led programs abroad in various countries such as Ireland, Dominican Republic, Australia, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Poland, Spain, Italy, China, Germany and South Africa to name a few. Administered by the Department of Culture and Global Engagement, study abroad programs have the opportunity to develop responsible and engaged citizens by cultivating the cultural awareness and sensitivity, skills and knowledge necessary to participate respectfully in the global community. All students are advised to plan early for study abroad and to discuss with their academic advisor to determine whether they can fulfill their graduation requirements through a study abroad program. Students also must attend an information session to understand the policies and procedures for our education abroad opportunities. For more information visit https://educationabroad.qu.edu/ or email study_abroad@quinnipiac.edu

Purchase Textbooks
Once you have completed registration, your textbooks may be purchased online at: www.QuinnipiacShop.com
